In Chesnut-street, No. 7. below Third-street,

POEMS,

By Miss HANNAH MORE, viz. Sensibility; and Reflections of King HEZEKIAH, in his sickness.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE high approbation Miss More has received from the Monthly Reviewers, may with propriety be introduced whenever her works, or part of them, are re-published. A few of their observations are----"Of the Dramas we cannot express our approbation more strongly, than by observing that they are admirably calculated for the end they are designed to answer----the instruction and amusement of youth; being equally adapted to inform the understanding, and to improve the heart."

The poem Sensibility has so much engaged their attention, that near four pages are filled up in laying several parts thereof before their readers, and in pointing out its beauties. They say, "In a book chiefly intended for young persons, it is not with impropriety that Miss More has introduced the concluding composition, Sensibility; there being nothing of which they are more apt to form mistaken ideas than that of sympathetic tenderness, which is supposed to have its source in the amiable affections of the heart. From these mistaken ideas it is that so many, by giving way to the immoderate indulgence of sensibility, destroy their own peace; while a still greater number, by its affectation, render themselves disgusting." Monthly Review for July 1782.

If this publication meets with encouragement, others of a like kind will be laid before the public.

TO THE PUBLIC.

A COMPLEAT Nautical Almanac and Astronomical Ephemeris, calculated for the use and instruction of the American Navigator, Surveyor, and the Lovers of useful Knowledge in these United States, is a work which the subscriber hopes will meet with the approbation of the virtuous citizens of America; convinced of the advantages which must attend a publication of this kind in America, he has taken the liberty to lay before the public:

PROPOSALS for PUBLISHING by SUBSCRIPTION,

The American Nautical Almanack, and Astronomical Ephemeris.

The ALMANACK and EPHEMERIS shall contain,

I. The Sun and Moon's rising and setting, and time of high water for every day in the year at Philadelphia; with an easy rule to make these answer any place in the world. Also, the changes, fulls and quarters of the moon, with the eclipses of sun and moon throughout the year, fitted to Philadelphia; with an easy rule to fit them to any other place of the world.

II. The declination, and passage over the meridian, of the planets every day, with an easy rule by these to find their rising and setting in all places of the world.

III. The right ascension and declination of the sun; also, the equation of time for the noon of every day; likewise, the sun's semi-diameter for every fourth day.

IV. The moon's right ascension and declination for the noon and midnight of every day; also, the moon's semi-diameter and horizontal parallax for every noon, and her passage over the meridian every day.

V. The distance of the moon's center from the sun, and from stars east and west of her; for every three hours throughout the year.

VI. The eclipses of Jupiter's satellites.

VII. A number of other tables requisite to be used with the Almanack; with several rules, illustrated by a great variety of examples, shewing the use of the Almanack and Tables, particularly in finding the longitude at sea and land.

The price to be ONE DOLLAR, which is Ten-pence less than the price of the British Nautical Almanack, although it will contain many things not in the other.

The Almanack for the year 1786 will be published some time in October next, and that for 1787 in Feburary or March following; after which time, should the publisher meet with sufficient encouragement, they shall always be published at least two years before their date, for the use of those mariners who may go long voyages. BENJAMIN WORKMAN.

Subscriptions are taken in by Messrs. Edes and Sons, Boston; F. Barber, Rhode-Island; R. Hodge, and S. Campbell, New-York; J. Murphy, Baltimore; J. Hayes, Richmond; J. Campbell, Wilmington, N. Carolina; J. Muirhead, Charleston, S. Carolina; by the Publisher; and by all the Book-sellers in Philadelphia.

The utility of the proposed publication of a Nautical and Astronomical Ephemeris is so well known in Europe, that Computers are annually paid by the public, on whose fidelity, care and abilities the astronomer and navigator may safely depend; while observatories are established almost in every country in Europe to furnish the necessary materials of calculation. A similar publication in America must, of consequence, be of singular advantage to promote the navigation of the United States, if executed with care and ability. From our acquaintance with the skill of the gentleman who proposes to undertake the business, we have no doubt but that it will be executed with the greatest attention and fidelity, and that he deserves the encouragement of the friends of America. From the LONDON GENERAL ADVERTISER, May 28, 1785.

The following are the final resolutions of the Britiſh Parliament, as delivered in by the Committee choſen for adjuſting the Commercial intercourſe between Great-Britain and Ireland,

I. THAT it is highly important to the general intereſts of the Britiſh Empire, that the intercourſe and commerce between Great-Britain and Ireland ſhould be finally regulated on permanent and equitable principles, for the mutual benefit of both countries.

II. That a full participation of commercial advantages ſhould be permanently ſecured to Ireland, whenever a proviſion, equally permanent and ſecure, ſhall be made by the Parliament of that kingdom towards defraying, in proportion to its growing proſperity, the neceſſary expences in time of peace, of protecting the trade and general intereſts of the empire.

III. That, towards carrying into effect ſo deſirable a ſettlement, it is fit and proper that all articles not the growth or manufacture of Great-Britain or Ireland, except thoſe of the growth, produce or manufacture of and of the countries beyond the Cape of Good Hope, to the Streights of Magellan, ſhould be imported into each kingdom from the other reciprocally, under the ſame regulations, and at the ſame duties (if ſubject to duties) to which they would be liable when imported directly from the country or place from whence the ſame may have been imported into Great-Britain or Ireland reſpectively, as the caſe may be; and that all duties originally paid on importation into either country reſpectively, except on arrack and foreign brandy, and on rum, and all ſorts of ſtrong waters not imported from the Britiſh Colonies in the Weſt-Indies, ſhall be fully drawn back on exportation to the other. But, nevertheleſs, that the duties ſhall continue to be protected and guarded, as at preſent, by withholding the drawbacks, until a certificate from the proper officers of the revenue, in the kingdom to which the export may be made, ſhall be returned and compared with the entry outwards.

IV. That it is highly important to the general intereſts of the Britiſh Empire, that the laws for regulating trade and navigation ſhould be the ſame in Great-Britain and Ireland; and, therefore, that it is eſſential, towards carrying into effect the preſent ſettlement, that all laws which have been made, or ſhall be made in Great-Britain, for ſecuring excluſive privileges to the ſhips and mariners of Great-Britain, Ireland, and the Britiſh Colonies and Plantations, and for regulating and reſtraining the trade of the Britiſh Colonies and Plantations, ſuch laws impoſing the ſame reſtraints, and conferring the ſame benefits on the ſubjects of both kingdoms, ſhould be in force in Ireland, by laws to be paſſed by the Parliament of that kingdom for the ſame time, and in the ſame manner as in Great-Britain.

V. That it is further eſſential to this ſettlement, that all goods and commodities of the growth, produce, or manufacture of Britiſh or Foreign Colonies in America, or the Weſt-Indies; and the Britiſh or Foreign ſettlements on the coaſt of Africa, imported into Ireland, ſhould, on importation, be ſubject to the ſame duties and regulations as the like goods are, or from time to time ſhall be ſubject to, upon importation into Great-Britain; or if prohibited from being imported into Great-Britain ſhall in like manner be prohibited from being imported into Ireland.

VI. That in order to prevent illicit practices, injurious to the revenue and commerce of both kingdoms, it is expedient that all goods, whether of the growth, produce, or manufacture of Great-Britain or Ireland, or of any foreign country, which ſhall hereafter be imported into Great-Britain from Ireland, or into Ireland from Great-Britain, ſhould be put, by laws to be paſſed in the Parliaments of the two kingdoms, under the ſame regulations, with reſpect to bonds, cockets, and other inſtruments, to which the like goods are now ſubject, in paſſing from one port of Great-Britain to another.

VII. That for the like purpoſe, it is alſo expedient that when any goods, the growth, produce, or manufacture of the Britiſh Weſt-India Iſlands, or any other of the Britiſh Colonies or Plantations, ſhall be ſhipped from Ireland for Great-Britain, they ſhould be accompanied with ſuch original certificates of the revenue officers of the ſaid Colonies, as ſhall be required by the law on importation into Great-Britain; and that when the whole quantity included in one certificate ſhall not be ſhipped at any one time, the original certificate, properly indorſed as to quantity, ſhould be ſent with the firſt parcel; and to identify the remainder, if ſhipped within a time to be limited, new certificates ſhould be granted by the principal officers of the ports in Ireland, extracted from a regiſter of the original documents, ſpecifying the quantities before ſhipped from thence, by what veſſels, and to what ports.

VIII. That it is eſſential for carrying into effect the preſent ſettlement, that all goods exported from Ireland to the Britiſh Colonies in the Weſt-Indies, or in America, or to the Britiſh ſettlements on the coaſt of Africa, ſhould from time to time be made liable to ſuch duties and drawbacks, and put under ſuch regulations as may be neceſſary, in order that the ſame may not be exported with leſs incumbrance of duties or impoſitions than the like goods ſhall be burdened with when exported from Great-Britain.

IX. That it is eſſential to the general commercial intereſts of the empire, that ſo long as the Parliament of this kingdom ſhall think it adviſeable that the commerce to the countries beyond the Cape of Good Hope ſhall be carried on ſolely by an excluſive company, having liberty to import into the port of London only, no goods, of the growth, produce, or manufacture of any countries beyond the Cape of Good Hope, ſhould be importable into Ireland from any foreign country, or from any ſettlement in the Eaſt-Indies belonging to any ſuch foreign country; and that no goods of the growth, produre, or manufactnre of the ſaid countries, ſhould be allowed to be imported into Ireland but through Great-Britain: And it ſhall be lawful to export ſuch goods of the growth, produce, or manufacture of any of the countries beyond the Cape of Good Hope to the Streights of Magellan, from Great-Britain to Ireland, with the ſame duties retained thereon as are now retained on their being exported into that kingdom; but that an account ſhall be kept of the duties retained, and the net drawback on the ſaid goods imported to Ireland; and that the amount thereof ſhall be remitted by the Receiver-General of his Majeſty's Cuſtoms in Great-Britain to the proper officer of the revenue in Ireland, to be placed to the account of his Majeſty's revenue there, ſubject to the diſpoſal of the Parliament of that kingdom; and that whenever the commerce to the ſaid countries ſhall ceaſe to be carried on by an excluſive company, in the goods of the produce of countries beyond the Cape of Good Hope to to the Streights of Magellan, the goods ſhould be importable into Ireland from countries from which they may be importable to Great-Britain, and no other; and that no veſſel ſhould be cleared out from Ireland for any part of the countries from the Cape of Good Hope to the Streights of Magellan, but ſuch as ſhall be freighted in Ireland by the ſaid excluſive company, and ſhall have ſailed from the port of London; and that the ſhips going from Great-Britain to any of the ſaid countries beyond the Cape of Good Hope ſhould not be reſtrained from touching at any of the ports in Ireland, and taking on board there any of the goods of the growth, produce, or manufacture of that kingdom.

X. That no prohibition ſhould exiſt, in either country, againſt the importation, uſe, or ſale of any article, the growth, product, or manufacture of the other; except ſuch as either kingdom may judge expedient, from time to time, upon corn, meal, malt, flour, and biſcuits; and except ſuch qualified prohibitions, at preſent contained in any act of the Britiſh or Iriſh Parliaments, as do not abſolutely prevent the importation of goods or manufactures, or materials of manufactures, but only regulate and reſtrain the weight, the ſize, the packages, or other particular circumſtances, or preſcribe the built or country, and dimenſions of the ſhips importing the ſame; and alſo except on ammunition, arms, gunpowder, and other utenſils of war, importable only by virtue of his Majeſty's licence; and that the duty on the importation of every ſuch article (if ſubject to duty in either country) ſhould be preciſely the ſame in one country as in the other, except where an addition may be neceſſary in either country in conſequence of an internal duty on any ſuch article of its own conſumption, or in conſequence of internal bounties in the country where ſuch article is grown, produced, or manufactured, and except ſuch duties as either kingdom may judge expedient, from time to time, upon corn, meal, malt, flour, and biſcuits.

XI. That in all caſes where the duties on arcicles of the growth, produce, or manufacture of either country, are different on the importation into the other, it is expedient that they ſhould be reduced, in the kingdom where they are the higheſt, to an amount, not exceeding the amount payable in the other; ſo that the ſame ſhall not be leſs than ten and half per cent. where any article was charged with a duty, on importation into Ireland, of ten and a half per cent. or upwards, previous to the 17th day of May 1782; and that all ſuch articles ſhould be exportable, from the kingdom into which they ſhall be imported, as free from duty as the ſimilar commodities or home manufactures of the ſame kingdom.

XII. That it is alſo proper, that in all caſes where the articles of the conſumption of either kingdom ſhall be charged with an internal duty on the manufacture, the ſaid manufacture, when imported from the other, may be charged with a farther duty on importation, adequate to countervail the internal duty on the manufacture, except in the caſe of beer imported into Ireland, as far as relates to the duties now charged thereon; ſuch farther duty to continue ſo long only as the internal conſumption ſhall be charged with the duty or duties, to balance which it ſhall be impoſed; and that where there is a duty on the raw material of any manufacture in one kingdom, greater than the duty on the like raw material in the other, ſuch manufacture may, on its importation into the other kingdoms, be charged with ſuch a countervailing duty as may be ſufficient to ſubject the ſame, ſo imported, to burdens adequate to thoſe which the manufacture compoſed of the like raw material is ſubject to, in conſequence of duties on ſuch material in the kingdom into which ſuch manufacture is ſo imported; and the ſaid manufacture, ſo imported, ſhall be entitled to ſuch drawbacks or bounties on exportation, as may leave the ſame ſubject to no heavier burden than the home-made manufacture.

XIII. That, in order to give permanency to the ſettlement now intended to be eſtabliſhed, it is neceſſary that no new or additional duties ſhould be hereafter impoſed, in either kingdom, on the importation of any article of the growth, product or manufacture of the other; except ſuch additional duties as may be requiſite to balance duties on internal conſumption, purſuant to the foregoing reſolution, or in conſequence of bounties remaining on ſuch articles when exported from the other kingdom.

XIV. That for the ſame purpoſe it is neceſſary, farther, that no prohibition, or new or additional duties, ſh uld be hereafter impoſed in either kingdom, on the exportation of any article of native growth, product or manufacture, from the one kingdom to the other, except ſuch as either kingdom may deem expedient from time to time, upon corn, meal, malt, flour and biſcuits.

XV. That for the ſame purpoſe, it is neceſſary, that no bounties whatſoever ſhould be paid or payable in either kingdom, on the exportation of any article to the other, except ſuch as relate to corn, meal, malt, flour and biſcuit, and except alſo the bounties at preſent given by Great-Britain on beer and ſpirits diſtilled from corn; and ſuch as are in the nature of drawbacks or compenſations for duties paid; and that no bounty ſhould be payable on the exportation of any article to any Britiſh colonies or plantations, or to the Britiſh ſettlements on the coaſt of Africa, or on the exportation of any article imported from the Britiſh plantations, or to the Britiſh ſettlements on the coaſt of Africa, or Britiſh ſettlements in the Eaſt-Indies; or any manufacture made of ſuch article; unleſs in caſes where a ſimilar bounty is payable in Great-Britain, on exportation from thence, or where ſuch bounty is merely in the nature of a drawback or compenſation of or for duties paid, over and above any duties paid thereon in Britain, and where any internal bounty ſhall be given in either kingdom, on any goods manufactured therein, and ſhall remain on ſuch goods when exported, a countervailing duty, adequate thereto, may be laid upon the importation of the ſaid goods into the other kingdom.

XVI. That it is expedient, for the general benefit of the Britiſh empire, that the importation of articles from foreign countries ſhould be regulated from time to time in each kingdom, on ſuch terms as may effectually favor the importation of ſimilar articles of the growth, product or manufacture of the other; except in the caſe of materials of manufacture, which are, or hereafter may be allowed to be imported from foreign countries, duty free; and that, in all caſes where any articles are, or may be ſubject to higher duties on importation into this kingdom, from the countries belonging to any of the States of North-America, than the like goods are or may be ſubject to when imported, as the growth, produce or manufacture of the Britiſh colonies and plantations, or as the produce of the fiſheries carried on by Britiſh ſubjects, ſuch articles ſhall be ſubject to the ſame duties on importation into Ireland, from the countries belonging to any of the States of North-America, as the ſame are or may be ſubject to on importation from the ſaid countries into this kingdom.

XVII. That it is expedient that meaſures ſhould be taken to prevent diſputes, touching the exerciſe of the right of the inhabitants of each kingdom to fiſh on the coaſts of any part of the Britiſh dominions.

XVIII. That it is expedient that ſuch privileges of printing and vending books, as are or may be legally poſſeſſed within Great-Britain, under the grant of the Crown or otherwiſe, and the copy rights of the authors and bookſellers of Great-Britain, ſhould continue to be protected in the manner they are at preſent, by the laws of Great-Britain; and that it juſt that meaſures ſhould be taken by the Parliament of Ireland for giving the like protection to the copy rights of the authors and bookſellers of that kingdom.

XIX. That it is expedient that regulations ſhould be adopted with reſpect to patents to be hereafter granted for the encouragement of new inventions, ſo that the rights, privileges and reſtrictions thereon granted and contained, ſhould be of equal duration and force throughout Great-Britain and Ireland.

XX. That the appropriation of whatever ſum the groſs hereditary revenue of the kingdom of Ireland (the due collection thereof being ſecured by permanent proviſions) ſhall produce, after deducting all drawbacks, re-payments, or bounties granted in the nature of drawbacks, over and above the ſum of ſix hundred and fifty-ſix thouſand pounds in each year, towards the ſupport of the naval force of the empire, to be applied in ſuch manner as the Parliament of Ireland ſhall direct, by an act to be paſſed for that purpoſe, will be a ſatisfactory proviſion, proportioned to the growing proſperity of that kingdom, towards defraying, in time of peace, the neceſſary expences of protecting the trade and general intereſts of the empire.

ST. CHRISTOPHER, July 6.

Extract of a letter from Dominica, dated in Roseau, July 2, 1785.

"There has been more rain here these four weeks last past than you have had in St. Christophers for 20 years. On Thursday morning last, about 8 o'clock, the river came down with greater force than was ever known before, it overflowed the whole town except the market place, filled the cellars, and carried away several houses, and did considerable damage to many of those that resisted the flood;---damaged vast quantities of dry goods and sugars, the river was several feet higher than it was in the flood of the year 1768, it could not have risen less than from 15 to 20 feet;---no lives were lost, and it was a happy circumstance that we had day light for it."

We are informed that the above flood was occasioned by a water-spout breaking on a mountain above the town, the water of which poured down in a vast sheet on all sides; a vessel that arrived here from Europe and was then under the island of Dominica, informs, that the torrent of water, upon the opposite part of the island to Roseau, was immense, and poured down the mountain with astonishing rapidity.---The Latona frigate, within three miles of Roseau, perceived the water-spout to break on the mountain, and the amazing body of water making directly for the town, lowered and hoisted her topsails several times, and fired alarm guns to give the inhabitants notice of the approaching danger.

KINGSTON, (Jamaica,) July 18.

Extract of a letter from Black River, (on the Musquito Shore,) dated 18th June, 1785.

"I yesterday thought that I should soon have had the pleasure of seeing you, as we had orders to embark the artillery, and proceed to Jamaica, without loss of time; but this day has destroyed that hope, our orders being countermanded, at the request of the Council at this place, who are of opinion, that it would be improper to leave the country without some regular force; though, for my part, I see no occasion for any, since there lately arrived here from the Captain General of Guitamala, dispatches replete with assurances of his pacific intentions: He moreover adds, that the whole business of this country is to be settled by both Courts.

"The Bull Dog, by whom I send this, sails with a detachment of the sixteenth and fourteenth. From the number of anchors and cables the remaining part of the squadron has lost, and the reduced state of provisions, &c. you may daily expect to see us at Port Royal, with the principal part of the third regiment. Our appearance will be more like half-starved Spaniards than Englishmen, as our supplies of every kind are expended, without a possibility of replacing any of them. Some days ago, I dined with the buffs, who, for love or money could only get two fowls. From this instance, you may conclude how difficult it is to get stock of any kind at this place. Notwithstanding the scarcity of fresh provisions, I have the happiness to inform you, that the troops and seamen are in perfect health and high spirits.

"The Janus and Bull Dog have this morning lost an anchor and cable each."

NEWBURY-PORT, August 10

A correspondent who has read the pamphlet just published at this office, respecting the appearance of the Devil to two men, acknowledges it to be one of the most surprising accounts he ever met with, which came so well attested, and earnestly recommends it to the perusal of every one, especially such as entertain the least doubt of the grand enemy of mankind ever making his appearance visibly to the inhabitants of this world.

The Liberty of the Press is gloriously mantained in this state! If a person is so unfortunate as to lose the principal part of his interest, his misfortune must be still heightened, by being obliged to pay an extra tax, if he advertises his loss---Since the tax on advertisements took place, paragraphs in the paper are, by some, pronounced to be advertisements---probably a tax on ALL of them will be the NEXT step, (if any disgusting to those in office should appear) perhaps such an one as may amount to a prohibition.---The people of this Commonwealth have been remarkably tenacious of their Liberties, that of the Press in particular; but NOW it may be restrained and shackled, as much as our rulers think fit, and all is well.---It is not unlikely that THIS generation will see an act that shall require all publications, of every kind, to be licensed prior to their publication, and then the blessed effects of resigning the Liberty of the Press will soon be felt. Taxing advertisements, and other publications, appears to be little short of licensing, or a prohibition, and may be easily increased by those in power, whenever it suits their turn, if the precedent is once established, and the right of it given up to them.---From the Press the people of these States derive most of their knowledge of the conduct of those they have placed over them, and when once they are deprived of this way of information, and of communicating their sentiments to each other, then farewell to Liberty---It is not meant to charge our present General Court with such designs; far from it---we believe them to be better men,---and doubt not, but that after have fully weighed the matter in their minds, the Act above alluded to will be immediately repealed.

PORTSMOUTH, August 12.

Since our last a vessel from Shelburne arrived here with British goods on board; which the owner would fain have palmed upon the inhabitants of this place, without paying the duties, as by a law of this State made and provided, are laid on all British commodites; but being interrupted in their smuggling trade, they were pleased to weigh anchor, and set sail for some other port.

Another vessel, we are informed, was hovering off the shoals at the same time, bound upon the same errand; but upon information of her partner's cold reception, shaped a different course.

One of the above vessels is reported to have had a considerable sum in specie on board, to purchase provisons for the inhabitants of that barren country, lately and properly called New-Scotland; who are now experiencing "all the horrors of starvation."

BOSTON, August 15.

We learn by a late arrival from the West-Indies, that on the 2d of July last, an exceeding large Water-Spout was observed to the windward of Dominique, where, in a very short time after it was discovered, it arrived, and broke directly over that island; evacuating vast quantities of water in such torrents upon the town of Dominique, as raised the water four or five feet deep in the streets, carrying off severall light buildings, and entirely clearing them of every thing buoyant to the above depth of water. The inhabitants were thrown into the greatest consternation for their safety; but we are not informed whether the consequences were personally fatal.

Last week arrived at Plymouth, Captain Bishop, from North-Carolina, by whom we learn, that the crop of English grain, is entirely cut off---occasioned by the great number of BUGGS that infest their fields; they were in great fear this numerous tribe would extend themselves into their corn fields---should this be the case, their whole crops will be entirely cut off.

On Saturday last arrived here the brig Charming Sangen, Jas. Orr, master, in 60 days from Copenhagen. On his passage, June 28, in the channel, spoke the ship Mercury, 5 weeks from Philadelphia, William Budden, master, bound to Amsterdam. He had laid off and on Dover Road 5 days for a pilot, but had not got one on board when Captain Orr left him. Capt. Young, and Capt. Willson, had also arrived safe in the channel, from Philadelphia.

Wednesday last arrived here a ship from Liverpool, laden with salt; but as the duty on that and other articles took place the preceding day, we hear she is going southward.

STATE OF RHODE-ISLAND, &c.

IN GENERAL ASSEMBLY, June Session, 1785.

An ACT for laying additional Duties on certain enumerated Articles, and for encouraging the Manufactory thereof within this State, and the United States of America.

BE it enacted by this General Assembly, and by the authority thereof it is enacted, That from and after the tenth day of July next there shall be paid for the use of this state, and to be levied, collected and paid in manner and under the penalties as by an act laying an impost of two per centum ad valorem upon certain articles therein enumerated, made and passed by the General Assembly of this state, at June session, A. D. 1783, is ordered and prescribed, and for the purpose in said act declared, the following additional impost or duty on the value, and at the time and place of landing, on the following goods and articles, being of the growth and manufacture of any foreign state, island or plantation, to wit:---On coopers axes, and adzes, 12*s* lawful money per dozen; drawing-knives, coopers compasses and howels, 6*s* per dozen; broad axes, 20*s* per dozen; narrow axes, 12*s* per dozen; hatchets, 6*s* per dozen; scythes and hoes, twenty per centum on the value; all tools for the use of blockmakers, chaisemakers, tanners, curriers, caulkers, shoemakers, and husbandmen (sickles, plane-irons and saws excepted) gouges chissels and oakum, ten per centum on the value; loaf-sugar, 3*d* per lb. every beaver hat, 6*s*; every castor hat, 3*s*; every felt hat, 1*s*6; playing cards, 12*s* for every dozen packs; muffs, tippets and ermine, ten per centum on the value; paper charged at the rate of 8*s* sterling money of Great-Britain, per ream, and under that price, and blank paper books for accounts, twelve per centum on the value; all wrought pewter and wrought tin ware, twelve per centum on the value; boots, shoes, saddles, bridles, coach, chaise and horse harness, bellows, wool and cotton cards, horn combs, whips and lashes for whips, mens and womens leather gloves, twenty per centum on the value; cordage, twine and lines, five per centum on the value; all sorts of candles and soap (Castile soap excepted) and all manufactured tobacco, ten per centum on the value; all garments ready made, walking canes, brush and warming-pan handles, mop sticks, taylors press and notch boards, house bells, sham watches and childrens toys, twenty-five per centum on the value; iron hollow ware, 3*s* per cwt, womens silk shoes, 1*s*6 per pair; womens leather and stuff shoes, 1*s* per pair; all dressed or tanned leather, 3*d* per pound; cheese, 3*d* per pound; wrought silver, 1*s* per ounce; wrought gold, 6*s* per ounce; every clock and gold watch, 18*s*; every silver watch, 6*s*; every coach or chariot 15*l*. every other four wheeled carriage, 7*l*. 10*s*. every curricle, chaise, riding chair, kittereen or sulkey, 3*l*. 15*s*. plated buckles, goldsmiths, silversmiths and jewellers wrought ware, ten per centum on the value; instrument makers work, cabinet makers work, and framed chairs, ten per centum on the value; Madeira wine, 4*d* per gallon; all other wines, 2*d* per gallon; porter and beer, ten per centum on the value.

A true Copy.

NEW-YORK, August 11.

Extract of a letter from Paris, June 3.

"Dr. Franklin, having seen his successor installed in his diplomatic functions, is preparing to return to Philadelphia. As he cannot bear the fatigue of a carriage, he will embark at Seine, which runs before his house at Passy, and go to Rouen, and from thence to Havre, where the ship is getting ready that is to carry him to America."

August 22. Captain Alexander Stewart, of the brig Delight, who was said to have foundered at sea on the 22d of June last, on her passage from St. Pierre's, Martinique, to Providence in Rhode-Island, is safe arrived at Baltimore. He gives an account that the brig sprung a leak on the day abovementioned, which increased so fast that he and the crew (consisting of 13 men, one woman and a dog) took to the boat, and in three quarters of an hour after they left the vessel, she went down in lat. 31. 30. N. long. 71. 2. W. They were eleven days in the boat without water; on the 11th day the humane Captain James Smith, of the brig Friendship, from Salta Tuda to Richmond, delivered them from their distress, took them to Richmond, where they arrived in a weak condition.

PHILADELPHIA, August 24.

On Saturday the 13th instant, departed this life, Mrs. MARY BAYARD, Wife of the Honorable JOHN BAYARD, Esquire, of this city, Speaker of the General Assembly, and on the Sabbath morning her remains, attended by a great number of the most respectable citizens, were interred in the burial ground of the second Presbyterian Church. The prevalence of the custom of adorning the character of a deceased friend with every virtue of humanity, is a proof that it is rather founded upon the affection of the living than the merits of the dead.

It is unnecessary therefore to say any thing more of the character of Mrs. Bayard, than to observe, that in the late very important charge of a numerous family, in which she sustained a character difficult to secure from censure, she discharged her duty with fidelity and the most entire satisfaction.---The silent sadness of the bereaved declare their loss.---Her exemplification of the precepts of the Christian Religion in the social connections, may afford present relief to those who have been made most sorrowful by this stroke, as it is the best evidence that she hath made a happy exchange.

On Tuesday the 9th inst. the Board of Trustees of Dickinson College met at Carlisle, agreeable to adjournment. The meeting was the most full and respectable of any that has yet appeared at that place; and the Honorable JOHN ARMSTRONG, Esq; was chosen President, pro tem.

Extract of a letter from Dover (Delaware) dated August 5, 1785.

"Last Saturday evening a company of men inhabitants of Kent county, who had been at the bay on a party of pleasure, returning to the forest of Murtherkill, where they lived, called at the house of Preston Berry, a public house-keeper, when two of them immediately engaged in a warm contest whose horse could beat the horse of the other in running; and after a great deal of ill language mutually given by the one to the other, they agreed to fight fairly, as they termed it---take no law of each other, and that none of the company present should part them, till one or the other cried enough. In consequence of this agreement, they engaged in the combat with their fists only, and after throwing each other down several times alternately and fighting near fifteen minutes, only one of the company shewing a design to part them, but was forcibly prevented by the rest, one of the combatants instantly died of the several bruises he received during this unhappy contest, and the survivor has since been taken into custody and bound over by recognizance to abide his trial for the homicide."

Extract of a letter from Richmond, Virginia, dated August 13.

"On Wednesday evening last an express arrived from the Western Country to our Governor, advising, that about the first of this month a treaty was to have been held between some of our people and the Indians; that upon their meeting, about 12 miles from Point Pleasant, on the other side of the Ohio, the Indians, instead of entering into the negociations as proposed and expected, did, cruelly and savage like, kill four of our party---Colonel Thomas Lewis, Captain Lochart, Captain Lamberton, and another gentleman."

It must give every friend to American manufactures great pleasure to hear, that Mr. John Baird, lately from North-Britain, hath constructed a mill for Cutting Barley, near Wilmington, and manufactures that wholesome and agreeable grain in the neatest manner, and at a price below the imported. The Barley may be seen at Mr. John Morton's store. It has been pronounced by good judges to be equally prepared, and in point of taste to be preferable to the best Scotch Barley.

Last week several companies of infantry and one of artillery marched through Reading on their way to the westward; being the quota of troops from the state of New-York, ordered, by Congress to be raised, for the defence of the frontiers.

Monday, the 8th instant, a barn, near Reading, was struck with lightning, and entirely consumed, together with the adjoining stables, about forty tons of hay, and a great quantity of grain, &c.

The following singular affair happened on Saturday morning last:----A person who arrived from England some time last fall; hired in the family of Mr. David Bacon, and during his residence had conducted himself with great propriety; got up early, and securing a door at the bottom of the stairs, to prevent interruption, opened a desk below, took out upwards of ten pounds, and ransacking two money drawers of their whole contents in the front store, together with a new beaver hat, immediately run off.----The perperator of the above robbery calls himself Joseph Edge, is about five feet six inches high, well set, light complexion; nineteen years old, and had with him, among other apparel, a white hat, with white bobbin loops.

On Thursday evening James Smith and Joseph Cartwright; two labourers, having a dispute on the Drawbridge, the former struck the latter on the side of the head, by which he fell on the ground, and his head striking against a stone, he received a mortal wound, whereof he died early next morning----he was buried the next evening. Smith was committed to prison.

By VENDUE,

ON Thursday, the first of September, will be sold, on the premises, to the highest bidder, two valuable FARMS, in the Northern Liberties, within four miles of the city, well improved, and divided into such lots as the subscribers hope will suit the purchasers, one called Kenderton, formerly the property of Mrs. Venables, the other that of Jacob Bender, adjoining the former. Plans of each to be seen at the Coffee-houses. A small part of the purchase-money will be required at the execution of the deeds, and an extensive credit given for the remainder, by

THOMAS BOND,

N. B. A certain Henry Voelker went off with the above servant; he is a free man, a taylor by trade, and persuaded the servant to go with him. August 22, 1785.

Twenty-four DOLLARS Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscribers on Sunday evening, the 21st instant, the following indented Irish servants, viz.

DANIEL TONNEY, about 17 years of age, of a dark complexion, short black hair, about 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, thin visage; had on and took with him, a white jean coat, short blue sailor's jacket, two under jackets, one spotted, the other of fine dimity, a pair of olive green corduroy breeches, almost new, a castor hat, &c.

MICHAEL M'PHADDIN, about 26 years of age, of a fair complexion, with long black hair tied, stout and well made, a weaver by trade, about 5 feet 9 inches high; had on and took with him, a linen coat, jacket and breeches of corded linen, thread stockings, wool hat, with a black ribbon round it, a blue short jacket, and a check wallet.

THOMAS KENNEDY, about 20 years of age, of a sandy complexion, freckled in the face, has long brown hair, thick legs, the left leg shortest, which causes him to limp when he walks, very thick set, about 5 feet 4 or 5 inches high; had on and took with him a drab coloured cloth coat almost new, with no lining, a spotted velvet jacket, a blue cloth jacket, two pair of breeches, one jean the other fustian, thread stockings, new shoes, with square copper buckles, and a wool hat; he is a shoemaker by trade, and took some tools with him. It is supposed they took a black mare, about 6 years old, 14 hands and an half high, a natural trotter but no particular marks. Whoever takes up the said servants and mare, and secures them or either of them, shall have SIX DOLLARS reward, and reasonable charges, paid for each, by DAVID FROST, WILLIAM RICE, and WILLIAM M'CALLA.

LANDS for PUBLIC SALE.

To be SOLD by public vendue, at the Vendue Store, in Baltimore-town, and the sale to commence on the 5th day of September next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and continue until all are sold.

ABOUT 4650 acres of very valuable LAND, the property of the Baltimore Company, viz. Orange, containing about 2800 acres, adjoining said town, the greater part of it very well wooded, the soil tolerable good, and lays well for farming.----- Philipsburgh, containing about 900 acres, lays nearly adjoining said town, and on the banks of Patapsco river and Harris's creek, where the navigation is very good, and there may be several good and commodious ship-yards easily made;----this tract abounds with different kinds of timber and fire wood, and contains several swamps and valleys, which may be easily made into valuable meadow, and a considerable quantity of the up-land well adapted to farming.---Gorsuch, containing about 500 acres; this tract lays adjoining Philipsburgh, and extends down to the point opposite the fort, which forms the mouth of our harbour, and lays two miles on navigable water; there has been formerly a few acres of this land cleared; but the remainder of it abounds with large lofty timber, chiefly white oak of the first quality for ship-building and with fire wood; on this tract there is a very large proportion of valuable meadow and up-land of the first quality for farming.---In short, the many advantages it has over most other lands, renders it the admiration of all who examine it.

Three small tracts, laying round the old Mount Royal Forge, on both sides of Jones's Falls, about one and a half miles from said town, containing about 250 acres; on this land there are three excellent mill-seats, on one of which stands the old forge, with other considerable improvements.-----About one half of these tracts is very well wooded; but what adds exceedingly to its value, there are a considerable number of quarries of excellent stone for building.

Bare-Hills, containing about 200 acres, laying about six miles from said town, in the neighbourhood of Col. Darby Lux, and will be particularly described at the time of sale.

The whole of these lands will be laid off in lots of various sizes, according to their situations, and as it may be thought will best suit the purchasers. As there are many beautiful situations for Gentlemen's country seats, a number of lots will be laid off for that purpose, and the remainder in mill seats, stone quarries, gardens and farms.

The terms of sale of these lands are the one tenth of the purchase money of the three tracts, laying round Mount Royal forge, to be paid down the next day after the sale, and bonds with approved security, payable in five years from that date on interest, to be paid annually, for the residue;---and for the remaining tracts, one twentieth part of the purchase money to be paid down the next day after the sale, and bond with interest in the same manner as aforesaid, for the residue.

Plats of the whole will be made out in a short time for the examination of the public---any persons desirous of viewing Philipsburgh, or Gorsuch, before the day of sale, are requested to apply to Mr. Miles Love, living on the latter; those who may be desirous to view the other lands, are requested to apply to Capt. Zachariah Mackubin, surveyor on Howard's hill, Baltimore. Attendance will be given at the time and place of sale, by

PURSUANT to the last Will and Testament of Colonel LEWIS GRONOW, deceased, will be exposed to Public SALE, on the Premises, on the 8th day of September next, at 2 o'Clock in the Afternoon,

A VALUABLE PLANTATION and TRACT of LAND, situate in the Great Valley, Chester county, about 22 miles from Philadelphia, containing upwards of 200 acres, about one half thereof cleared, the remainder well timbered. There is a large proportion of excellent meadow thereon, watered by that never-failing stream, known by the name of the Valley Creek, which runs through the said tract and affords a convenience for erecting any kind of water works. On the premises are a well finished two story stone house and kitchen, a good barn, stables and other out-houses, a stone spring-house over a never-failing spring, a young bearing orchard and other improvements; the arable land is naturally productive of all kinds of grain, and may be easily kept so, as there is plenty of limestone on said tract; it is pleasantly situated, in a good neighbourhood, convenient to a number of Merchant Mills, and places of Worship of different denominations. Credit will be given for the greatest part of the purchase money, upon giving security. Attendance will be given and the conditions made known, at the time and place of sale, by JOHN BEATON,)

NOTICE is hereby given to all those who are indebted to the estate of DAVID JOHNSON, formerly of Marlborough township, Philadelphia county, but late of Macunge, deceased, either by bond, note or book debt, to discharge the same before the first of September next, otherwise their accounts will be put into the hands of an Attorney without further notice; and all those who have any just demands against said estate are requested to bring in their accounts, properly attested, before the 15th day of September next, to the subscriber, living in Miller's town, Northampton county.

§ ALEXANDER M'MICHAEL, Executor.

Buckingham township, Bucks county, August 9, 1785.

WHEREAS the subscriber, Wife of ADAM BARR, much to her grief, has found her name published in the papers by her husband, accusing her of eloping from him without any cause. If being often beat and abused in a most cruel manner, thrown in the fire, sometimes almost strangled by him, at other times thrown on the floor and stamped on, swearing he would murder her, and other ill treatment, which disabled her from getting out of bed for several days, suffering both black and white servants to abuse her with ill language, and when her mother came to see her, he in a furious manner turned both her and her mother out of doors.---If such cruel usage, from a man who ought to have been her best friend, be not sufficient cause for leaving him, she leaves the impartial to judge.
